GLOBE NATIONAL BANK GIGANTIC SPECULATION CAUSED ITS FAILURE. (By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot.) Boston, Dec. 23.—The trend of affairs connected with the closing of the Globe National Bank in this city for the first time developed a criminal aspect through the placing under surveillance to-day in California of the bank's former president, Charles H. Cole. de24-15

The charge against Mr. Cole is the old one of overdrafts and overdraws, many to himself, and the action of the receiver of the bank ordering the arrest, while a shock to the friends of the former president was not a surprise. It is practically agreed that it was a gigantic speculation in copper stocks, which Mr. Cole became so much involved, that the bank's money and credit was used until it was well nigh exhausted. de24-15

The inevitable result of failure followed after the bank was bolstered up by the Clearing House, which paid its indebtedness to the extent of many millions. de24-15

ATLANTIC CITY.

A Destructive Fire Visited the Ward Last Night.

An Ice House Stored With Lumber, Lime, Shingles, Etc., and an Oyster Packing House Burned—The Losses—Briefly.

The old ice house of the Nottingham & Wrenn Company, in Atlantic City, and the Hopkins oyster house, adjoining the company's wharf, were destroyed by fire between 8 and 9 o'clock last night. The ice house was a large frame structure, used for the storage of lumber, lime, shingles, etc. It contained some three hundred tons of agricultural lime and a large quantity of dressed lumber, all of which was destroyed in last night's fire. It was formerly used as a storage plant for ice.

The wharf was partly burned, as was also some lumber and shingles thereon. Hopkins' oyster house, where the fire originated, was completely destroyed. There was the usual stock of both shucked and unshucked oysters on hand. The loss falls upon Mr. William H. Hopkins, Jr., the proprietor of the packing-house. The building, however, belonged to the Thos. J. Nottingham and Wm. A. Wrenn estate, Mr. Hopkins having leased it.

Mr. Thomas J. Nottingham, vice president of the company, said last night that the loss to his firm in stock would be about $3,000. The two buildings, he said, were worth between $5,000 and $10,000. These belonged to the estates of Thomas J. Nottingham and Wm. A. Wrenn. The insurance is light. Mr. Nottingham said that the blaze was a spectacular one, because of the large frame building it had to play upon, and also because of its advantageous location from the sight-seers' standpoint. Great crowds gathered at the foot of Freemason, Bute and York streets and the new Atlantic City bridge, which afforded the best view, besides the Fire Department, responded to the alarm, and, as usual, these marine fire fighters ably seconded the fire under Chief Ryan.

The tugs were Commodore Duryea (Old Dominion), Piedmont and Chester (Southern Railway) and the Dorothea (Seaboard Air Line). The Queen street force, one down-town engine and truck and the York street force fought the flames from the land side.

The fire started by the explosion of a lamp in the Hopkins oyster house about 7:45 o'clock and spread rapidly, catching the Nottingham Wrenn Company's wharf almost as soon as the firemen arrived. There was an immense quantity of coal stored in the rear of the building burned, and several oyster houses all but adjoining the site of the fire, making it hard work for the firemen to keep the blaze from reaching these.

Mr. W. A. Anderson, one of the members of the firm, was struck by a piece of timber and slightly injured during the fire. A fireman was struck by falling timber and his hand and side hurt.

A HEAVY FOG.

TRAFFIC MUCH DELAYED AND SOME ACCIDENTS HAPPEN.

The fog yesterday morning was the most palpable wet-blanket this section has seen for many a day. No one could fail to see the fog, for no one could see to any distance through it, and after a few futile attempts by tugs and ferry steamers the fog reigned king of the port, and all pretenders abdicated. As once one put the matter in the only place one could see out was overhead, and unless the boiler burst there was no chance of going that way, and he wasn't anxious to try that trip.

So from 6:30 to 10 a. m. no ferry trips were successfully made. The ferry steamer Superior on one attempt was in collision with the tug Volunteer, and the former's gun-rod was cut through, but no other damage was done. The City of Portsmouth came near colliding with the Superior, and landed in the Old Dominion dock, and on the same trip she rammed the Seaboard Air Line dock, damaging it somewhat. Other amusing contretemps occurred, which might easily have been serious, but luckily no one was injured.

Outgoing and incoming steamers were greatly delayed, but the most provoking thing to the citizens was the delayed ferry traffic, and much grumbling was indulged in. The only way of preventing recurrence of such delays is apparently a bridge over Berkeley road from Norfolk to Portsmouth, and this may not be far off. It was said to be the thickest fog in twelve years.

SEWELL'S POINT RAILWAY.

SUSPENSION OF WORK CAUSED BY LABOR TROUBLES.

Work on the Sewall's Point Electric Railway has been practically suspended for the past month because of trouble between the Tennis Construction Company, sub-contractors under Sanford, Brooks & Co., and the laborers whom they employed on the road. Mr. D. Lowenberg, played on the Atlantic Terminal President of the Tennis Construction Company, said yesterday that he knew little about the trouble, but supposed the cause of it was that the Tennis Construction Company had run short of money.

The company formerly employed about 250 laborers, mostly colored, and the road was practically completed, with the exception of the poles, trolley and power house, when the trouble arose. The company, it seems, got behind with the wages of most of their employees, and nearly all of them quit work. Then, it is said, there was some trouble between the Tennis Construction Company and Sanford, Brooks & Co., for former claiming extra money because of an engineering mistake made, which the company claimed it was not responsible for. This made it necessary to re-grade and re-build a portion of the road. There was also some personal trouble between certain officials of the company. None of this latter, however, has anything to do with the present trouble, by which the completion of the road is delayed, said Mr. Lowenberg yesterday.

In addition to the labor trouble, several means have been taken to prevent against the Tennis Construction Company in the Corporation Court here. Mr. Conwell, the company's chief engineer and representative here, went to Baltimore nearly a month ago to secure money for the adjustment of matters there, and though the other men of his firm in Norfolk have looked for his return almost every day for two weeks, it is now said he has gone to Philadelphia, the headquarters of the company, and will not return until some time next week. It is not known whether or not he will come prepared to pay off the claims against the company at once.

By the terms of their contract, the company was to have had the road completed by September 1st. Asked yesterday if the Atlantic Terminal Company would hold the contractors financially responsible for the failure to fulfill their contract as to the time of completion, Mr. Lowenberg said that this would be the natural course to pursue, but he would not give a definite answer. When the road was started, it was expected to have cars running over it by now, whereas the track has not been laid the entire distance, and the foundation of the power-house is down, and many of the trolley poles and the trolleys are yet to be put up. Some of the employees of the company have taken steps, it is said, to bring suit against it, but have been persuaded to wait a while longer. It is hoped to have the trouble adjusted soon.

Died in Philadelphia.

News reached the city yesterday of the death of Mr. Wm. W. Harwood, in St. Agnes Hospital, Philadelphia, on the 20th instant. The funeral will be held to-day under the auspices of Maumee Tribe No. 34, I. O. O. F., of which he was a member. The interment will be in Odd Fellows' Cemetery.

Mr. Harwood was born in this city 26 years ago, and having lost his parents when quite young was raised by his grandfather, the late Peter Moore. He left here some two years ago, going to Colorado, but later returned to Philadelphia, where he has a host of friends and several kinpeople here who will learn with sorrow of his demise.

Supposed Wife Murderer Caught.

Robert H. Harris, colored, who is wanted at Wilson, N. C., for the murder of his wife at that place several months ago, was arrested here yesterday. He has been here for several days, and the policemen became aware of it and locked him up. He is about 30 years old.

Mr. McGuire, Chief Klizer's clerk, yesterday wrote to Wilson to get a better description of Harris, so as to avoid a mistake in the man. If it is ascertained that the right person has been arrested he will be sent to Wilson.

Employers Remember Employees.

Messrs. Burke & Gregory, the popular printers, made their employees happy on yesterday. Each and every one in their large establishment carried home a substantial Christmas gift, and the young men and young ladies, too, were lavish in their praise of their generous employers.

This is, truly, very commendable on the part of Messrs. Burke & Gregory, and if their example were followed by all employers there would, indeed, be Christmas cheer in every household.

Steamship Labeled.

The firm of Steel, Young & Co., owners of the British steamship Kennett, yesterday labeled the British steamship for salvage. The Ragusa broke her shaft in mid-ocean, and was towed to the Cape by the Kennett, where she was taken in tow by two Chesapeake and Ohio tugs and towed to Newport News, where she will be dry-docked and repaired. U. S. Deputy Marshal West served the libel yesterday afternoon.

COURTHOUSE ECHOES.

Work of the Blind Goddess in Nor-folk Yesterday.

Property on Tripoli street Reap- praised—Admitted to Bail Will Probated—Wife Follows Husband Into Trouble—Other Cases.

By his fight for a new condemnation commission, Judge T. S. Garnett received $1,000 higher award for his property on Charlotte street and Tabb's court. This property was condemned for the opening of Tripoli street, and the original commission fixed its value at $8,600. Of this amount, $5,000 was allowed for the house and lot, which is occupied by Judge Garnett. The new commissioners have appraised the entire property at $9,600.

ADMITTED TO BAIL.

C. C. Ellworth, charged with grand larceny, was before Judge Hancel yesterday to be bailed until the January term of the Corporation Court. His bond was fixed at $500.

WILL PROBATED.

In the Corporation Court yesterday, the will of the late Francis T. McNeenan, dated August 1st, 1882, was admitted to probate. The testator names his sister, Ellen H. McNeenan, as his sole heir. The estate is valued at $2,000.

PROPERTY TRANSFER.

A deed was recorded yesterday transferring from Annie E. Esby to James E. McCoy, Jr., an improved lot, fronting 20 feet on Claiborne avenue; $1,300.

DIVORCE GRANTED.

In the Court of Law and Chancery yesterday, Judge Martin granted Mrs. Pinkie Shackelford Smith an absolute divorce from her husband, Thomas H. Smith. The defendant is required to pay the costs incurred by the plaintiff in her suit. The couple were married in Gloucester county in June, 1892, and moved to Norfolk four years later.

ATTACHMENT DISMISSED.

In the case of T. E. Hayman vs. D. H. Howd, on an attachment issued by a Justice of the Peace, the plaintiff is granted, and the Norfolk and Western freight cars, on which the attachment was levied, were released.

WIFE IN TROUBLE.

Mary Jane Johnson, colored, wife of James I. Johnson, colored, negro of Berkeley, charged with giving Moses Salsbury a clear title to a house and lot, on which there was a deed of trust for
